PREFACE

The purpose of teaching any language is to develop the ability to communicate in that language in a proper and effective manner. The structural knowledge of any language based on grammatical rules has little significance unless it is coupled with an ability of effective communication. Therefore, teaching of any language should be aimed at helping the student communicate fluently and effectively in that language.

Perspective English is a series of 8 books based on the National Curriculum Framework and the latest instructive principles. The main objective of the series is to develop the four basic skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing. The warm up given at the beginning of each lesson will keep the students abreast of the lesson to be learnt. Exercises set at the end of each lesson will engage them individually or in pairs or groups. It will instil in them the habit of independent thinking and also give them an equal opportunity to express his/her views, ideas and opinions. Thus each and every student in the class will have a chance to speak or express their ideas in an interactive manner. This will instil in them the habit of free and independent thinking which in turn, will help them developing their communication skills.

New words have been introduced in each lesson and their use is explained with a view to enhance the vocabulary power of the students. Browse Your Vocabulary section will encourage the students to use dictionary for learning new words and will also familiarise them with minute grammatical aspects of the language.

Besides the above, the series makes an effective use of modern interactive techniques and methods to develop proficiency in English language through the deployment of communication skills. It not only helps the learners express themselves in English with ease in real life situations, but also tries to make learning of English an enjoyable and rewarding experience.

We sincerely hope and believe that the present series would get enthusiastic response from the young learners and the skilled and learned scholars alike. Suggestions, if any from our esteemed teachers and the avid readers is highly solicited and the same will be incorporated at proper places in our next edition.

Mary had a Little Lamb

Little children are fond of animals. Animals also love them in return. they follow the children wherever they go.

WARM UP

Mary had a little lamb,
Its fleece was white as snow;
And everywhere that Mary went
The lamb was sure to go.
It followed her to school one day,
That was against the rule;
It made the children laugh and play
To see a lamb at school.
And so the teacher turned it out,
And still it lingered near.
And on the grass it played about,
Till Mary did appear.

Let's Learn New Words

lamb – young one of a sheep, fleece – wool, rule – discipline, turned it out – did not allow it in, lingered – moved about, appear – came.

A Day in the Appu Ghar

Tinku and Tinu's parents take them to the Appu Ghar on a Sunday. They have a lot of fun there. Let's read and see how they enjoyed themselves in the Appu Ghar.

WARM UP

It is Sunday. Tinku and Tinu are very happy. They are going to Appu Ghar with their parents.

Father is cleaning the car. Mother is preparing breakfast.

Now they are ready. Father is driving the car.

Soon they reach Appu Ghar. They are very excited.

"Look at the rides!" Tinku says.

"Let's go for a ride," says Mother.

They ride the Merry-go-round. It moves very fast.

Tinu clings to her Mother. Tinku feels he is falling down. He screams loudly.

Then they sit under a shady tree and enjoy their lunch.

After lunch, Tinku and Tinu ride in Dodgem cars.

The cars keep banging into each other.

Next they visit the Ice Kingdom. The whole area is covered with ice.

Many children are making snow-balls and throwing them to one another.

Tinku and Tinu also join the fun and throw snow-balls.

It is five O'clock. "Come on, children. It is time to go home." father says.

They return to the car.

Tinku and Tinu are very happy.

They kiss and hug their parents for such a memorable holiday.

Tinu's Routine

Tinu is a pretty little girl. Everybody loves her because she is well-mannered. Let's learn about her daily routine.

WARM UP

Tinu is Tinku's sister. She is a pretty little girl. She studies in class I. She always stands first in the class. She respects her teachers as well as her parents. She is very punctual and disciplined. She is never late for school. She always does her works in time.

It is 6 A.M. Tinu has just got up. After saying her prayer to God and 'Good morning' to elders, she goes to bathroom. Look at her. She is brushing her teeth.

After washing her face, she would take her bathe.

Now Tinu has taken her bathe and combed her hair. She is now wearing her uniform. After that she will take her breakfast. She likes to take toast and butter in breakfast. She does not take tea. She drinks a glass of milk instead. Then she says 'Good bye' to her mother and reaches the bus stand with her father. Some of her friends also wait for the bus at the bus stand. Soon the bus arrives and she gets into it.

Tinu returns from school at 1.30 P.M. Then she takes her lunch and rests for some time.

In the afternoon, her mother helps her in doing her homework. Then she goes to play in the playground. Her friends also come there. They play together.

When she goes to bed after dinner, her mother tells her interesting stories. Then she says 'Good night' to her parents and goes to sleep.

Tinku Finds His Ball

Tinku's father presented him a small, beautiful white ball on his birthday. As he threw the ball, it was lost. Could he find it? Let's read and learn.

WARM UP

Tinku is only seven years old.
Yesterday was his birthday.
His father presented him
a beautiful ball.
It was a small white ball.
It was very light.
It bounced very high.
Tinku was very happy.
He played with it all morning.
He threw it up; he threw it down.
He threw it here; he threw it there.
Once he threw it very high in the air and it was lost.
Tinku looked for the ball.

He looked for it in the bedroom.
He looked for it in the bathroom.
He looked for it on the chairs.
He looked for it under the tables.
He looked for it on the floor.
And he looked for it behind the door.
But it was nowhere.
Tinku became very sad.
Tinku was feeling very hungry.
So he went to the kitchen.

His mother was cooking there.

He saw an egg on the table.

"Mother, Will you fry that egg for me?" Tinku said.

"I am busy Tinku," said his mother, "I will fry it later."

"O.K. Mom, let me keep it in the fridge." Tinku said.

Tinku picked up the egg.

And Lo! It was not an egg.

It was his lost ball.

Tinku became very glad.

He ran out to play with his ball.

Tit for Tat

Often we go to market with our parents to buy things. Sometimes, we need to go alone as well. While buying things from the market we should always be alert so that nobody can cheat us. Anuj was alert and, therefore, the fruit-seller couldn't cheat him.

WARM UP

Anuj is a little boy. He is my neighbour. He is very polite and gentle. Everybody loves him for his polite nature. But he is equally bold and intelligent. He is always alert. He never accepts things which are wrong.

One Sunday morning, he went to the fruit market with his mother.

His mother was busy buying some fruits, while Anuj was standing beside her.

A middle-aged vendor was selling apples. His mother asked the vendor to give her one kilogram apples. She had to buy some vegetables also, so she gave the money to Anuj and went to buy vegetables.

The vendor was a wicked man. He was weighing the apples. Anuj was looking at him. He was quite alert. He saw that the vendor had fixed a magnet under the scale. He put the apples on that side and weighed it.

“Why are you giving me less apples?” Anuj spoke.

The vendor smiled. He understood that Anuj must have noticed his trick. Yet he tried to manage the situation.

“Don't worry! It would be easier for you to carry.” he cunningly replied.

Anuj said nothing. He took the packet, gave some money to the vendor and left. The vendor counted the money and found it less. He called Anuj from behind and said, "You have given me less money."

"Don't worry!" Anuj laughed, "It would be easier for you to count."

The cunning vendor was baffled. He learnt a lesson of his life; that is 'Tit for Tat.'

Akbar and Birbal

Birbal was the most favourite minister of Emperor Akbar. He was very clever. He could manage any situation. Many stories are told about his cleverness and presence of mind. Here is one such story. Let's read and enjoy.

WARM UP

Akbar was the Emperor of Hindustan. He was one of the greatest Mughal Emperors. He had a great love for scholars and learned people. There were many learned and wise men in his court. Birbal was one of them. He was very intelligent. So he was the most favourite of Emperor Akbar.

Once, the Emperor of Persia invited Birbal to his court. He went to Persia where he was given a warm welcome. He stayed there for many months. Parties were given in his honour. He felt happy with all these.

At last, the day of his departure for India arrived. When Birbal was about to leave, one of the ministers asked him, "Who is greater, Emperor Akbar or the Emperor of Persia?"

Birbal said, "Your Emperor is like the full moon and my Emperor Akbar is like a quarter moon." All the people of Persia were very happy to hear that their king is greater than Emperor Akbar.

When Emperor Akbar came to know of it, he was very angry. As Birbal came to the court of Akbar and saluted him, Akbar asked, "How could you insult your Emperor in front of another Emperor?"

You are a traitor. Get out of my court at once."

Birbal said politely, "No, your majesty, I did not insult you. I said him full moon because the full moon becomes smaller and smaller and then disappears. But the quarter moon grows from strength to strength day by day. So I declared you as a quarter moon as your power is growing every day. But the power of the Emperor of Persia is becoming less day by day."

Akbar was happy and satisfied with his intelligence.

He embraced him and welcomed him to his court.

The Sun and The North Wind

A powerful person never boasts of his strength. The North Wind thought that he was more powerful than the Sun. He was arrogant. They decided to try their strength upon a man. The Sun easily won and the North Wind had to be ashamed.

WARM UP

Once upon a time a dispute arose between the Sun and the North Wind. The North Wind was strong but he was arrogant. Though the Sun was stronger than the North Wind, he never boasted of his strength. He was very gentle.

One day, the North Wind said to the Sun, "I am stronger than you, so you should obey me."

The Sun said, "No, I am stronger than you, so you shouldn't boast of yourself." The argument continued for a long time but the dispute was not settled.

At last, they decided to try their strength on an old man who was going on the road. The old man was wearing a coat.

"Look!" said the North Wind, "Whoever makes the man put off his coat, will be the winner." the Sun agreed.

At first, the North Wind took his turn. He blew hard. But the old man didn't remove his coat. The North Wind blew harder and harder. He blew with all his strength. The old man began to shiver. He wrapped his coat as tightly as he could. At last, the North Wind accepted his defeat.

Now it was the turn of the Sun. At first he shone gently. The cold air became warm. The man felt warm. He opened the buttons of his coat but he didn't remove it. Soon the Sun began to shine brighter and brighter. The old man felt very hot. He began to sweat. He at once removed his coat and put it on his shoulder. The Sun won the competition. The North Wind was ashamed.

Tinku's Garden

A garden full of colourful flowers looks very beautiful. We should try to learn how to look after the plants in a garden.

WARM UP

There is a small garden in front of Tinku's house. It is very beautiful. His father has planted many flower plants in the garden. Tinku has also planted a rose plant there. There are many beautiful flowers in the garden.

Every morning Tinku goes there with his mother. They water the plants. In the afternoon, he plays with his friends in the garden.

There is a small pond in the middle of the garden. It has four golden fish in it. There are small round stones near the pond. Plants called fern grow around the pond.

There is a big mango tree in one corner of the garden. Many little birds come and sit on this tree. Some birds have built their nests in the tree. There is a small bench under the tree. Tinku's grandfather and grandmother sit there and watch them play.

Sometimes, Tinku and his friends go and sit on the grass near the bench. His grandmother tells them beautiful stories.

My Pussy Cat

We should never be cruel to animals. We should take care of them and treat them with love and affection.

WARM UP

I love little Pussy,
Her coat is so warm;
And if I don't hurt her,
She will do me no harm;
So I'll not pull her tail,
Nor drive her away;
